Monday We Shall Record a New and Great Economy Event

A March Sale of Muslin Underwear

Coming on the Very Threshold of Spring, Its Fine Savings Could Not be More Timely

It is axiomatic or bromidic---as you please---to say that values are relative. We know no other way of picturing for you the possibilities of this March Sale than by weighing its values against those of the Great White Sale of January.

Judging from the height the sales reached then we have every reason to believe that that was the most value-ful White Sale Atlanta has known.

We inaugurate this March Sale Monday on the proposition that the values are finer than those you took so well to then. Nor do we hesitate to make the comparison between the two sales. The one of January stands firmly on its merits the best until now. We have outstripped it partly through good fortune, partly through what we are pleased to call shrewd merchandising.

A new maker was anxious to get more of our business, perhaps he made us concessions he would not have made under ordinary circumstances. We were not slow in appreciating the opportunity at hand.

So we shall show you Monday finer nainsooks, cambrics and muslins; daintier laces and embroideries and ribbons; neater stitching and workmanship; more charming; more womanly and daintier and NEW styles at either the same price or a lower price than heretofore.

In several instances we have had to lower prices on garments on hand in order to meet our own competition! It is particularly fortunate that we can offer such an opportunity at this moment when "spring clothes" is the very air that most women are breathing.

Now it is yours to profit! The covers will be lifted at 8:30 Monday.

P. S.—As we append the details below, we realize that they do not create the images that they should (we have seen the garments.) It must revert to that faith you have come to put in Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s printed word.

We have made some strong statements above.

Corset Covers

At 25c Of nainsook; the seams are from trimmings of embroidery, of Torchon laces—both finished with wash ribbons.

At 39c Twelve styles at this one the laces and embroideries are all daintier than we have ever offered at this price—surprising values; deep trimmings of lace and embroidery combined; simple convent sections

At 49c The nainsook is sheer and with the new peplum, trimmed with rows of Valenciennes and linen laces, embroidery medallions and lace points. We warrant those who had planned to pay more will be more than contented with these.

Drawers

At 25c Of sturdy muslin, splendid quality; flat leg; embroidery flounce; hemstitched tucks, or cluster tucks with hemstitched hems.

At 49c Of nainsook; flat leg and circular; trimmed with Swiss embroidery in openwork patterns, with lace and embroidery insertions and edges combined, clusters of hemstitched tucks. With these are crepe knickerbockers and bloomers with elastic bands in waist and legs.

Gowns

At 50c Of muslin; high and V-necks; yokes of bands of embroidery and tucks; round necks; short sleeves, finished with linen laces, with embroideries and laces combined. Note that these gowns are full large and long.

At 69c Nainsooks, daintily trimmed with linen laces and embroidery medallions; high, V and round necks; crepes in pink, light blue and white.

At 75c Gowns showing yokes of all-over laces, or of daintily patterned embroideries, edged with laces, ribbon-run. High neck, long sleeves, V-necks, round necks.

At 89c Charming variety, nain-sooks and muslins, and plain crepes and Dresden crepes; about any style one might want, and it will be trimmed most effectively with dainty and fine laces any polypidariae

At 98c Note at once the soft, even quality of the nainsook. Some twenty-five styles at this price. The embroideries are of Swiss origin, and laces are dainty and fine. You will buy by the threes and fours!

At $1.25 Of nainsook, trimmed with open patterned Swiss embroideries, shadow laces, French and German Valenciennes laces and linen laces. Particularly pretty Empire styles, finished with ribbons and bows.

At $1.50 to $5.00—with particular stress on those to $3.50! Gowns that show new uses of laces and embroidery—the daintiest baby patterns of Swiss—combined with aero cloth in yokes. "Sweet," you will say.

Petticoats

At 75c Plain crepe, soft and crink-ly, fitted, hemstitched and hem; an unusual value.

At 95c Of muslin, with double panel down front; scalloped edge; fitted and draw-string style.

At $1.25 Of nainsook, trimmed with fine embroideries; double panel; fitted or drawstring style.

Combinations

At 79c Reduced from $1.25 and $1.50; semi-fitted and priples, knickerbockers and flat legs; linen, Valenciennes laces, embroidery trimmings, ribbon run belts in some.

At 98c $1.25 and $1.98 are dainty bears of exceptional value. Some six styles at 98c; in namsook and crepe. You will be delighted with these.

Princess Slips

At 98c Reduced from $1.50, $1.98 and $2.25 because some of them are all them are and skirts trimmed with laces—Valenciennes and linen laces and embroideries.

bank for which the city is one of numerous strong competitors.

Yarious reports have come out of Washington, from news sources, which lend encouragement to fatinatia' hopes in this regard. No one can do more than surmise the foundation existing for these reports, and surmise is excusable solely because they seem to agree on the outcome so far a Atlanta is concerned. Doubtless other cities have received similar encouragement. Atlanta cannot afford yet to take it for granted that fortune has decided in her favor. Indeed, there have been emphatic statements issued by the organizations.

tune has decided in her favor. Indeed, there have been emphatic statements issued by the organiza-tion committee that none of these reports can be accepted, insamuch as the committee itself has not formulated its opinion even tentatively. Nevertheless, it is pleasant to read repeatedly that Atlanta is to be among the chosen. Soon we should know the decision. Our arguments are in; our facts are filled; we have made our fight. It is to be hoped sincerely that success will be ours.

That earthquake shock was probably the result of rch coming in like a lion.

A Contagious Hospital.

A Contagious Hospittal.

The Rotary Club of Atlanta has done a real service to the community in starting a movement for a contagious disease hospital.

The only trouble with Grady hospital is that it is not large enough. There ought to be a special department for countagious diseases, which cannot be admitted to the requiar hospital.

The Rotary Club, which takes an active interest in municipal affairs, at a meeting Thursday night offered to provide the necessary funture for a femporary contagious disease hospital if the city would provide the building and the hospital staff.

With commendable promptness Mayor Woodward and the city health department joined with the Rotary Club, and in twenty-form hours a building near Grady hospital was ready for business and took in ten patients Friday afternoon.

took in ten patients Ffiday aftermoon.
It is unnecessary to call the attention of the Mayor and General Council to the need for a permanent contagious disease hospital and the need for increasing the facilities of Grady hospital genreally, for they appreciate these needs already.
The only reason they haven't been provided is that the city hant't hadd the mopey.

Why should not the county make an appropriation to enlarge Grady hospital, and help carry the surden of operating cost?

The Power of Logic.

The Power of Logic.

It is a source of usending amassement to the citizenry at large that President Wilson can sway congress so powerfully. Manifestations of the strength of his leadership have been several during the twelvemonth he has been in office. The latest, his conversion of the lawrankers on the canal colls question, is perhaps the most striking, for on that matter congress had committed itself already to free tolls for American ships passing through the canal. Saturday's news is that before the president's weehal message is forty-eight hours old, the leaders in both houses of courges are preparing to repeal the exemption those houses decreed some months ago. However wonderful it may seem that a single man, even though he be the chosen leader of the land, it is not inexplicable. The true agency is joint—honest, dispassionate, dynamic logic—supplicable, the true agency is joint—honest, dispassionate, dynamic logic—supplicable, dynamic logic—themest, dispassionate, dynamic logic—supplicable, dynamic logic—themest, dispassionate, dynamic logic—themest, descriptions of a majority in the highest legislature of the land, it is not inexplicable. The true ones, dispassionate, dynamic logic, air. Wilson merely possesses an unusual capacity for winnowing that logic and presenting it to others. The plain logic of the situation, stripped of bombastic pseudo-patriottum, pointed to repeal of special privilege in the matter of canal tolls. Congress promises that repeal within a few hours.

level in twenty-four years on the fifteenth of last November.

This is comforting to the househorders who have been faced each month by supply bills larger than those of the month before. It offers reasonable hope that in due course of time the influences move at work in our nation will have resulted in a return to normal prices and to a normal scale of living. People whom high prices have compelled to curtail expenses have been restless under the continuing upward tread. Yet there have been others whom it affected more seriously, whose expenses already were at the minimum—that is to say, at a point below which they could not sustain existence. Life must have food, and warmth, and shelter. These fundamental requisites have increased steadily in cost during the last several years. The influence behind this has not been conspicuous.

years. The influence behind this has no, one-conspicious.

Whatever may have been responsible for the condition, relief now seems in eight. If the tariff caused it, that trouble has been remedied. If high finance caused it, tihat, too, has been corrected. Whatever it may have been, all authorities converge in the belief that a betterment has been ferfected. Logic traces this improvement to governmental activity. That, in turn, has been inspired by the citizens at large, and has been directed by the cool, clear mentality of our president. It may be that before Mr. Wilson has been four years in office, instead of just one as at present, we shall see greater changes in conditions under which we live.

Certain it is that those changes are en Certain it is that those changes are encouraged in every regard by the president himself, it stands for sanity is government, sanity in business, and sanity in individual affairs. Wonter of today are brinking hand weaving as an ecomplishment into feathers, no doubt, to preserve that technique by which they once clothed all the motions of man, rabricated his tent shelters, his ornaments, rish nets and his blankets.
